James,

The entire NDC was furloughed, so nothing was completed during the shutdown. Normally, from the end of December through January, we index approximately 175,000 pages, close around 20 FOIA/MDR cases (roughly 3,000 pages), complete assessment and QA review on 560,000 pages, and review approximately 120,000 referrals in the Interagency Referral Center. In addition, we missed the quarterly publication of our release list (public notification that approximately 500,000 pages are being moved to open shelves), and were unable to help at least four researchers and two agency reviewers who had scheduled appointments in January.

Thanks, Bill

The Archivist has asked us to do an article on what did not get done during the shutdown and what did get done. How did NDC deal with the shutdown?

Can you give me information on this, including some numbers if applicable, by COB Tuesday?

If you have questions, pls call on 75128.
